3 Presentations

Module 3.5 Structuring the main body

- The main body of the presentation contains the details of the topic described in the introduction.

- Repeat briefly what the topic and objective of your talk is: (Today's topic is . . .)
- Clear and simple main body structure: (I've divided my talk into three parts.)

Reading

Read the following.

- The secrets of presentation success

You should use signpost language to make your presentation successful. Signpost language can tell the audience what has just happened and what is going to happen. Signpost language guides the audience through the presentation.

- (Ending the introduction) So that concludes the introduction./ That's all for the introduction.
- (Beginning the main body) Now let's move to the first part of my talk, which is about . . .
- (Saying what is coming → Signaling the beginning of each part) In this part of my presentation, I'd like to tell you about . . .

- (Listing information) One type of signpost language is to introduce a list with a phrase like There are three types of business plans that we have to think about: a summary business plan, a full business plan and an operational business plan. Let's look at each of these in more detail. First, a summary business plan ... / We can see four advantages and two disadvantages. First, advantages. One is ... Another is ... A third advantage is ... Finally ...
- (Linking ideas) Another signpost language is to give a link between parts of presentation in order to develop the linear flow of your presentation. When one part of the talk ends you can say: That's all I want to say about ... / This brings me to the end of my first point. And begin a new part by saying Now we'll move on to the next part which is ... / This leads to the next point, which is ... / The next issue (topic, area) I would like to focus on is ...
- (Sequencing) Another type of signpost language is sequencing of information, which normally follows a logical or temporal order. There are two steps involved. The first step is ... The second step is ... / First the background, then the present situation, and then the prospects for the future. / Where does this lead us? / Why is this important? Key words in sequencing information are first, then, next, after that, later, finally, etc.
- (Giving examples) A good example of this is ... / To illustrate this point ...
- (Summarizing a point) Let me briefly summarize what I've said so far. / I'd like to sum up the main points.
- (Referring back) As I mentioned before, ... / As I said earlier, ... / As I pointed out in the first section, ... / Let's go back to what we were discussing earlier.
